

A New Face at Kalmbach Feeds of Indiana LLC.

We are excited to introduce Sarah Griffin. Sarah started working with us on May 16th, 2018. She will be our new Animal Nutrition Specialist. She comes to us with a Bachelor of Science Degree in Animal Sciences, Pre-Veterinary Medicine Concentration and a Minor in Biological Sciences from Purdue University. She also obtained a Master of Arts in Communication Studies from Ball State University.

Sarah will be a great addition to our team. She will be responsible for our on-farm communications, building customer relationships and assisting customers with their animal nutrition and feed requirements. In the next few weeks, we will be bringing her around to meet you. Please join us in welcoming her to our team!
